I wish you all the best as you enter the lunar month of Ashvin and celebrate Navaratri. Please accept my apology that I am unable to join you for the final three days of festivities as you celebrate the goddess of wisdom, Saraswati. The Navaratri festival embodies a spirituality that can be embraced throughout the whole community. After the first three days removing and cleansing negative influence the following six days open the door to welcome spiritual wealth and wisdom, two commodities that a community should embrace. I wish you all the best for the following year as you share your spiritual wealth and wisdom with family and friends. Namaste!
